Governor Profile

DERBY CITY COUNCIL

Who am I?

My Name is Alison Woodhouse and I became a co-opted governor at Lakeside in June 2014.

What are my interests?

Outside work I enjoy horse riding, camping and all holidays somewhere warm in the sun. Cooking and family time are the two areas that take up most of my spare time and its all my fault when people put weight on.

Where do I come from?

I am a health and safety advisor who works for the Local Authority supporting schools and managers. One of the main attractions of working in the education sector with health and safety is that it enables me to use my love of outdoor learning to promote risk benefit. The best thing about my job is simply, helping head teachers and managers give young people the skills and memories they can keep, by positive risk management through the safe delivery of the curriculum.

How did I become involved in school?

I have 2 grandchildren who are currently at the school and my daughter went to the Wilmorton School before it became Lakeside.
